Two Local Service Organizations Join Forces.

By SVFCH president,
Bob Whitman

At the Pinehurst/Kingston Lions meeting on Tuesday, February 8th, three members of the Silver Valley Fuller Center for housing Board met with the Lions. Fuller member, Tami Atkins, stated that both groups would benefit much by helping each other (both organizations) with events and fund-raisers. She also mentioned what both organizations need are more women and more members in general. The Lions then agreed unanimously and it was decided that the Fuller group would use the Lions' building for board meetings, etc. [Since several SVFCH board members decided to join the Lions, who meet shortly after the scheduled Fuller meetings, they would be able to easily attend both.]

So then, some events in particular were mentioned, where both organizations would utilize their members as volunteers, such as The Pinehurst Christmas Festival, Pinehurst Days, Ride the Wall, Fuller's 5 K Walk-A-Thon, Huckleberry Festival in Wallace, etc. We at the Fuller Center are grateful for the Lion's response and for everyone present for the spirit of cooperation in our joint efforts to serve our beautiful Silver Valley.

Each will retain its own accounting integrity, keeping their bank accounts separate.

More Welcome News!

Dave Renner of the Real Life Ministries in Pinehurst has organized their Helping Hands group to repair a roof in Wallace when the area is cleared of snow and dry.

Clint Kunze will organize the Idaho Servant Adventures, who spend time each year at the Shoshone Mountain Retreat up the CDA River, to help us with plumbing and siding on a trailer in Kellogg. These are the youth groups who come for a week at this Lutherhaven camp and work on projects throughout the valley. Last year, the camp was closed due to the forest fires and firefighters stayed there. The year before COVID hit, so now everyone is expecting great things this year.

Thanks

Tami Atkins captures a photo of Linda Yergler giving a check for $300 to SVFCH president, Bob Whitman, from the P-K Lions Club. Each month the Lions donate the profits from their breakfasts to help some person or organization in the community. They invited the Fuller Center last month to help serve breakfast and then presented the money during the meeting described on page 1.
